This Moment That Makes Us

Collective Motion's 20th Anniversary Production

Dear Community Business,

CommUNITY Arts STL, a St. Louis-area nonprofit committed to bringing creativity, collaboration, and connection into our community, is reaching an exciting milestone in spring of 2026. The resident performance company, Collective Motion, is celebrating its 20th anniversary Production of "This Moment That Makes Us" on May 1, 2026, at the Center of Creative Arts. We are excited to invite your business to partner with us as a sponsor

About CommUNITY Arts STL

At CommUNITY Arts STL, we believe art doesn't just reflect life — it shapes it. Art has the power to heal, unite, and inspire, and we are committed to making that power accessible to everyone in the St. Louis region.

We connect artists, educators, and neighbors through programs that bring creativity beyond traditional venues and directly into the heart of our communities. From performances on stage to in-school programming we make the arts a living, shared experience for all.

The Community Arts Bus (CAB) removes barriers by transporting underserved youth to after-school arts programs, ensuring that creativity and opportunity are within reach for every child. Collaborative productions like "This Moment That Makes Us" produced by Collective Motion unite local dancers, musicians, and visual artists in experiences that ignite imagination and build empathy. Through our Arts & Literacy program we provide creative in-school residencies to foster the love of creativity and learning.

Your support helps us:

- Expand arts access to communities that need it most
- Build creative collaborations, providing fair wages for local artists
- Provide mentorship, education, and creative opportunities for youth
- Build a stronger, more connected St. Louis

Together, we can transform moments into movements — sparking creativity, compassion, and collective growth across our city. Join us. Help make the arts accessible, inclusive, and alive in every corner of our community.
